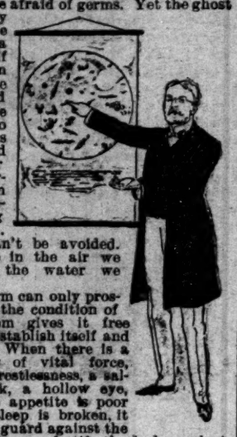
VOLUME CVI.---NO. 17. ALEXANDRIA, VA., FRIDAY EVENING, JANUARY 20, 1905. PRICE 2 CENTS.

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon.



Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' is a sick man's friend," writes Geo. N. Turner, Esq., (Ex. Financial Secretary International Brotherhood of Teamsters), 2208 California Street, Denver, Colo. "For the past seven years my health gradually failed. I lost my appetite, became nervous and debilitated, very despondent and unable to sleep. No medicine helped me until I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It put new life into my veins and increased vitality until I could once more enjoy life and attend to my business. Eight bottles affected a complete cure and gladly do I recommend it."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets—only one or two a day will regulate and cleanse and invigorate a foul, bad Stomach, torpid Liver or sluggish Bowels.

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

NIHILISM IN RUSSIA.

The Winter Palace stands on what may be termed the mainland of the city of St. Petersburg and faces the Great Neva river. Directly opposite the palace is a point of land which marks the junction of the Great Neva with the Little Neva. On this point is the bourse, the custom-house and other public buildings. The point is joined to the mainland near the Winter Palace by the palace bridge.

On an island on the other side of the point and commanding the Winter Palace is the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul. It will thus be seen that the battery of artillery which answered the salute of the fortress being stationed on the bourse square, was almost opposite the Winter Palace. The distance separating the square and the palace is estimated at about 500 yards. It was in the Winter Palace that Alexander II died after having been mangled by the explosion of a bomb in the streets of St. Petersburg. Just one year before that he narrowly escaped death at the hands of the nihilists, who managed to place a bomb in the imperial dining-room at an hour when the Emperor was expected to be there with his family. The explosion wrecked the dining-room.

The nihilist movement in Russia has never downed since its inception in 1862, following the publication of Tourginieff's "Fathers and Sons." Nihilism, socialism and all the concomitant destructive agencies directed an autocratic and domineering government found Russia the fairest breeding ground in all the world, and despite the promises of peace-loving sovereigns, the organizations directed against the Russian government and its primal figurehead flourished secretly in all the principal cities and towns of the empire.

The Russian people have cried aloud for political and social reformation for more than a century, and during that time there have always been some despairing men who take to the bomb as the only way of securing what they think will in the end enfranchise all Russia.

When Nicholas II, ascended the throne he issued a proclamation which was not in keeping with his former protestations of love of peace. Then the nihilists realized that they were to be treated with the same iron hand that marked the rule of the other czars gone before.

After waiting a reasonable time for the Czar to show that Russia under his rule would lighten the burdens imposed upon the people the nihilists began to get active, and the Czar, who was informed of the temper of the secret organization, showed signs that he feared the worst would come. Yet even in the face of all this he took no action for the reformation of social and political conditions. Occasionally promises would issue from the imperial palaces, but they would not be fulfilled.

It was in March, 1901, that the opposition of all classes against the Czar broke forth with renewed vigor. The nihilists had disseminated firebrand literature through the empire and despite the vigilance of thousands and thousands of spies and special police officers the secret missionaries of the society entered the small towns and inflamed the minds of all. The Czar knew of this, and realizing that the temper of the people must be cooled, argued with his advisers to put out a bait to the people in the form of a grant of rights.

Eleven hundred political prisoners in St. Petersburg alone were put through a secret examination. Students in the Universities filled with advanced ideas of socialism went so far as to revolt against conditions, and secured a promise from the ministers that there would be an imperial ukase reordering the social affairs of the empire. But the reformation never came, and things went along as best they might.

The year following brought a crop of nihilists to all the small towns of Russia. Women and young girls, filled with the ideas of the destroying agents at their head, went from place to place propagating their doctrines until all Russia was aflame. A competent French observer, sent to Russia to study conditions, said at that time that the empire was like a seething caldron, ready to overflow at any time.

In 1903 the Czar became panic-stricken with fear that the nihilst agitation would get him at last, and he issued a proclamation which was supposed to guarantee religious liberty, freedom from forced labor, the loosening of communal fetters, the reform of rural laws, the aid of banks for villagers and peasants and the bettering of the family school and public life. The proclamation was simply to put a wet blanket on the cause of nihilism, which had grown to such alarming dimensions.

Then came the assassination of Von Plehve, minister of the interior. In the selection of Mirsky, a reformer, it was thought that the nihilist would be temporarily checked. Mirsky is a man who seemingly has the good of the people at heart, and one of his first acts was to recognize the zemstvos movement, to which all Russia is now looking as its social and political salvation.

The zemstvos is the only semblance of government by the people in Russia. It is an elective provincial assembly composed of landed proprietors and representatives of the artisans and peasants. Hitherto they have been kept isolated to their specific provinces, but in November of last year they held a conclave which consisted of a number of zemstvos representatives. Plans of enfranchisement were discussed. Mirsky guaranteed the safety of the members while holding their conference.

Virginia Horses.

The Warren Sentinel states that Messrs. Warthen & Hale have bought and sold over fifty thousand dollars worth of Virginia horses during the past year. Mr. Warthen has his own sale stables in Boston, where he ships a carload of horses every sixty days. He shipped a load December 15th and is now buying for his March shipment. No horse commands a better price or stands higher with the hunting and sporting people of the North than the Virginia horse, and it behooves our farmers to see to it that their horses and colts are well fed during these winter months, that they may come through fat and strong and their growth be not retarded.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Golobick, of Colusa, Calif, writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from Rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarhoea Remedy.

The uniform success of this remedy has made it the most popular preparation in use for bowel complaints. It is everywhere recognized as the one remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant to take. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co

No More Stomach Troubles.

All stomach trouble is removed by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It gives the stomach perfect rest by digesting what you eat without the stomach's aid. The food builds up the body, the rest restores the stomach to health. You don't have to diet yourself when taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. D. Erskine, of Allenville, Mich., says, "I suffered Heartburn and Stomach trouble for some time. My sister-in-law has had the same trouble and was not able to eat for six weeks. She lived entirely on warm water. After taking two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she was entirely cured. She now eats heartily and is in good health I am glad to say Kodol gave me instant relief." Sold by all druggists.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 20, 1905.

THE REUNION and banquet of R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans last night added another interesting chapter to the history of this Alexandria institution. The gathering was a happy one and the unbroken interest which prevailed during several hours was marked. Those who responded to toasts spoke from their souls; their utterances were spontaneous, and the mingling of pathos and humor afforded an entertainment never to be forgotten. Electric thrills were at times sent coursing through the gathering by brilliant flashes of oratory, followed by transitions to mirth which caused convulsive laughter. The touching and graphic pictures of the great leader of the Confederacy, the Confederate soldier, the self-denying wife, mother and sister and their noble progeny of today, at times kept the audience spell-bound.

AS WAS stated yesterday, the Fall River strike is no more, and the mill operatives are returning to work. Governor Douglas was the mediator who brought about a settlement of the difficulty. The men had been out twenty-six weeks, during which time politicians and others had attempted to reconcile the differences between the employees employers. Their efforts bad been futile until Governor Douglas grasped the situation. He being a manufacturer, who began life on a shoemaker's bench, dealt with the situation in a common-sense and practical manner and soon brought about good feeling between the two warring factions. While the observation, "ne suter ultra crepidam," may be applicable in some cases, the first fruits of Governor Douglas's gubernatorial work shows the people have made no mistake in selecting him.

THE ATTITUDE of Speaker Cannon against tariff revision was indorsed yesterday by the American Protective Tariff League, at its annual meeting, held in New York. A resolution also was adopted urging that the tariff be let alone "until such time as it shall have been clearly demonstrated by general experience and practical knowledge that changes in the schedules will be productive of a degree of benefit to the whole country that shall outweigh the disadvantages and the injuries resulting from tariff revision." Of course this means that the Protective Tariff League will continue forever to oppose any tariff relief to the over-taxed people of this country.

THE ATTEMPT to assassinate the Czar of Russia yesterday by a fiend or fiends who placed missiles in a saluting cannon shows the danger of incident to those who wear crowns in the twentieth century. There has for many year been more or less unrest in Russia, but of late the discontented have gathered force, and from the signs of the times it would seem that a volcano is about to break out in the vast domains of the Czar. Today's dispatches from St. Petersburg show that the situation is becoming more serious all the time.

THERE ARE now 250,000 men on strike in Germany, and their conduct is becoming more menacing daily. Dispatches today show conditions are serious in the Kaiser's realms, and hat disorders and bloodshed are ecoming more common. Worse conditions are reported in Russia, while the uprising in Macedonia is becoming more pronounced. It looks as though the present year is to witness some terrible convulsions in Europe.

ANARCHISTS in Macedonia are not only causing much trouble in their own country, but it is feared their procedures will cause friction among other nations, which will sooner or later be forced to attempt to restore order. The Austro-Russian programme of reform has rather made conditions worse than ever. Turkey is said to be arming.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.

Senator Reed Smoot took the stand in his own behalf this morning at the investigation into his right to hold his seat as Utah's representative in the Senate. He stated that he was born in Salt Lake, January 10, 1862, of Abram O. and Annie K. Smoot, both Mormons, and the latter a plural wife. He was married September 17, 1884, in the temple at Logan, to Alpha M. Elders, by whom he had had six children. He had had no other wife and had cohabited with no other woman. When 18 years old he took the endowment ceremony at his father's urgent request. He had never taken it since and could not, if he would, give the details. Mr. Smoot denied that there was anything in the endowment house obligation about vengeance and was surprised that such a statement should have been made, as Joseph Smith formulated the obligation and it had never been changed, and Smith would hardly call for vengeance on account of his death when he was still alive. In 1872, said Mr. Smoot, he moved to Provo where he had lived ever since. He was counsellor to President Smith for five years and in 1900 he became an apostle. "I took no oath as such," he declared, "and when I later took the oath as United States Senator there was no mental reservation and there had been nothing in my past to hamper my work here." Up to 1884 he had regarded himself a democrat like his father, who came from Kentucky. Reading and thinking had converted him to republicanism. The Senator then gave in detail his political history up to the time of his selection as Senator.

The Senate interstate commerce committee is moving deliberately in its consideration of the railroad rate and kindred questions. Today it decided in executive session that for the proper understanding of the case, it would be desirable and necessary to hear the testimony of the big railroad men of the country before deciding upon any legislation. Accordingly J. Pierpont Morgan, J. J. Hill, A. J. Cassatt, and others prominent in the railroad world will be invited to come here and give their views to the committee.

Mr. Wm. J. Bryan, who is in this city, said today: "My visit has no political significance. I am coming east anyway and always like to visit Washington during a session of Congress to keep in touch with the members. What do you think of President Roosevelt's posttion on the question of freight rate legislation and a revision of the tariff?" Mr. Bryan was asked. "The republicans," he replied, "are stealing our thunder. Now if they would steal our lightning as well they might accomplish something. The question of the proper regulation of freight rates and the enlargement of the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission is strictly a democratic position. It has been our doctrine. If we are not in a position to accomplish it, the republicans should. I believe that the regulation of freight rates should be left to the Interstate Commerce Commission. I do not care to discuss the details of the question. In regard to the tariff, of course you know that I am a tariff reformer."

Fifty-Eighth Congress.

Washington, Jan. 20.

SENATE.

The President pro tem. presented a telegraphic protest from both Houses of New Mexico objecting to statehood with Arizona.

A bill was passed authorizing the President to appoint Wm. L. Patterson as second lieutenant in the army. It seems that the late President McKinley had sent an order from Canton, Ohio, for Patterson's appointment July 8, 1901, but that it had been inadvertently mislaid at the War Department and was not discovered until after the President's death. By that time Patterson's age had exceeded by a few months the statutory maximum, 27 years.

HOUSE.

In the House this morning prayer was offered by the Rev. F. M. Green, a Disciple preacher, of Kent, Portage county, Ohio. Rev. Green is an ex-member of the Ohio legislature from Summit county and author of a history of Hiram College. His last appearance in Congress was when, on one occasion he offered up prayer while James G. Blaine was Speaker of the House.

Representative Hull, of Iowa, called up the army appropriation bill. He offered a substitute provision for the amendment adopted in committee of the whole, making more clear in phraseology the new provision that no retired officer of the army above the rank of major, shall receive more than his retired pay when assigned to active duty with State militia organizations. As this is considered a slap at Major General Miles by the minority, floor leader Williams, of Mississippi, demanded a yea and nay vote on the amendment. It was adopted, 101 to 50, and the bill was then passed without further opposition.

Two Hundred and Forty Thousand Strikers

The Berlin Vorwaerts yesterday morning estimates the number of strikers in the coal mining district at 240,000. The news from the scene of the strike shows no change in the situation. Several cases of minor disturbances are reported, such as crowds hooting strike-breakers and police dispersing crowds, wounding several with their sidearms.

Sentiment appears to be drifting in favor of the strikers, the refusal of the Mine Owners' Association to negotiate with the operatives being regarded as an affront to the government. The Berlin Tageblatt adopts a decided tone in censuring the association.

The government commission has about concluded its labors, and has asked the representatives of the unions to put their complaints in writing, which the commissioners will bring to Berlin and hand to the government. It is thought that several weeks must elapse before the result of the inquiry can be worked out.

Much interest attaches to yesterday's sitting of the Reichstag, where a socialist interpellation regarding the strike is the first order of business.

Cardinal Fischer, of Colonge, has sent the strikers $250 to assist the needy. Accompanying the donation is a letter in which the cardinal, while declining to judge of the merits of the controversy, shows that he sympathizes with the strikers. The Vorwaerts Publishing Company has contributed $6,125.

The government and private owners of coal mines in the Saarbruecken district have decided to send no coal into the strike region. More industrial establishments are shutting down owing to the lack of fuel.

Situation Clearer.

Philadelphia, Jan. 20.—In the wor's of Secretaro F. L. Cohen, of the board of adjustment of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, the situation between the latter union and the Pennsylvania Railroad is "much clearer." The crucial point in the controvesy between the railroad and its disgruntled employes will be reached this afternoon when P. H. Morrissey, of Cleveland, Grand Master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, will call upon General Atterbury, of the Pennsylvania, who, it was said, is willing to listen to any proposition making for peace. Mr. Morrissey said this morning that he had not given up hope of any amicable settlement of the difficulty. It is believed that the result of this afternoon's conference will be peace between the company and its men. Both sides, it is said, are anxious to avoid a strike, and will go into conference with a determination to go as far as possible toward adjusting the questions at issue. Just what the proposition is that Mr. Morrissey planned to submit to the country is not known.

Uneasiness is felt in Rome at the concentration of Austrian troops on the Italian frontier, the Patria going so far as to say that Austria is preparing for war with Italy. On the other hand, the Rome Tribuna publishes a statement to the effect that its correspondent at Vienna has been assured by the Austrian Foreign Office that the increase in the number of Austrian troops on the frontier of Italy was merly due to the return of soldiers to their posts after having been on duty along the Russian frontier, their presence there being no longer necessary.

CZAR AND FAMILY IN PERIL.

Nicholas II., Czar of Russia; the Czarina and other members of the Romanoff family, together with the diplomats at the Russian court, including Ambassador McCormick, while attending the brilliant ceremony of the blessing of the waters of the Neva, in front of the Winter Palace, at St. Petersburg, narrowly escaped being struck by a shower of grapeshot fired from a gun in a battery of an aristocratic corps of the Emperor's home guards stationed near the bourse.

Bullets struck the open chapel in which the Czar was standing and broke windows in the palace. A policeman was killed, and it is reported an officer and three marines were wounded.

Mystery surrounds the affair. The authorities gave out a statement that the shooting was accidental, a charge of grape instead of a saluting charge being fired from the gun. Reports that an attempt had been made to kill the Czar caused intense excitement. He appeared less excited than those about him.

Wednesday night the authorities received reports that an attempt would be made upon the Czar's life yesterday. An officer attending the Czar says that if it was a deliberate plot it was ingenious, as it was never thought an attempt would be made to kill the Emperor with one of his own guns under the guise of firing a salute. The men in charge of the guns were arrested and a rigid investigation is being made.

Three Czars have been assassinated. Alexander II., grandfather of the present Czar, was killed by a bomb. The life of the reigning Czar has been beset with dangerous conspiracies. Since the war with Japan began the revolutionary spirit has been rapidly increasing in Russia. There were three assossinations of government officials last year, viz.: Bobrikoff, the governor of Finland, June 16; the vice governor, Elizabethpol, July 18, and Minister von Plehve, July 28.

Performing the annually recurring blessing of the waters of the Neva, with all the accustomed brilliant ceremonial, Emperor Nicholas, of Russia, yesterday wore the uniform of the famous Preobrajensky regiment. He looked in excellent health, and walked with an elastic step and smart military bearing, and greeted each regiment with the salutation: "Good morning, my children," to which the soldiers and sailors replied in stentorian tones: "Good health to Your Majesty," whilst the band played the national anthem.

In the state procession to the imperial chaped, an imposing train of court officials, the Emperor escorted the Dowager Empress and Grand Duke Alexis escorted the Empress, other members of the imperial family following in order of rank, the ladies of honor wearing picturesque national costumes. At 1 o'clock the divine service being concluded, the procession reformed and returned to the Winter Palace.

The ladies took places at the windows, while the Emperor, the Grand Dukes and the gorgeously robed clergy descended for the opin - air ceremonial. The entire length of the palace was guarded by soldiers. Beyond these the populace were massed in enormous numbers on the ice and at every point affording a view of the quays, bridges, monuments, etc.

In a few minutes the picture was filled in as an imposing procession of priests, choristers, standard-bearers, members of the imperial family and generals slowly took their places in the pavilion and platform, all, from the Emperor downwards, bareheaded.

At the conclusion of the solemn ceremony, the Metropolitan having dipped the cross in the water, the St. Peter and St. Paul fortress boomed a salute. Then came a crash of bullets through the windows, but no panic occurred, and the Metropolitan quickly proceeded to bless the Emperor and his entourage and consecrate the standards anew from the sanctified waters of the Neva.

Virginian Killed in Jersey.

As a freight train rushed by a drill engine in the Lehigh Valley freight yard at Jersey City last night the first car crushed the skull of George A. Hamm, the fireman, who was leaning out of the window of the cab. He fell back into the cab and died at the feet of the engineer. Hamm was 27 years old. He lived with his wife and baby in that city. Pinned to Hamm's suspenders, directly over his heart, was a minature photograph of his young wife. He had worn it there since shortly before his marriage to Miss Bessie Brewer, of Irwin, Va., 15 months ago. Mrs. Hamm fainted when she was told of her husband's death. The body will be interred at Maiden, Va., where the dead man's parents reside.

The store and dwelling of Mr. Joseph Kincheloe were destroyed by fire in Manassas yesterday morning about 3 o'clock. Absolutely nothing was saved—not even wearing apparel. Indeed, Mr. Kincheloe and his family had a very narrow escape themselves, not having time to dress. The property was insured for about one-third of its value. The origin of the fire is unkown.

The marriage in Manchester Wednesday of Sidney Furcron and Mrs. Lula Weatherford is the culmination of a love affair which began in 1865, when Furcron returned wounded from the battle of the Crater, near Petersburg. He met Mrs. Weatherford, then the beautiful Miss Spears, and the two fell in love. But for some reason they drifted apart and each married someone else. The mate of each died and when they met again the old love revived. Mr. Furcron was formerly principal of the academy, which borne his name, at The Plains, Fauquier county. He served through the war in Company B, Fourth Virginia Cavalry.

Mitchell Under Fire.

The management of the Colorado strike was bitterly argued at Indianapolis yesterday on the floor of the national convention of the United Mine Workers. Delegate Randall of Wyoming, spoke for half an hour. He charged that President Mitchell had sold out the miners' organization in the recent Colorado strike, and attacked the financial integrity of the president. His speech was a personal attack on President Mitchell. Randall took the platform and faced Mr. Mitchell while making the charges. The delegates tried to silence Randall several times, but President Mitchell rapped for order and insisted that Randall be heard.

When Randall was through, President Mitchell reviewed the conduct of the Colorado strike, and said it was true he had advised a settlement, and would do so again under the same circumstances. He said early in the strike, President Howells, of the district, asked for $300,000 with which to carry on the strike, which had been refused, President Mitchell said he did not want to trust Howells with that amount. President Mitchell made the charge that ex-National Board Member J. L. Gears had been in collusion with others in connection with the stock market, that the miners had refused to put up tents sent them unless paid for it, that the miners had demanded a per diem wage while on the strike, and that, finally, after over $600,000 had been poured into the field and the strike had been irretrievably lost, he had advised a settlement.

Randall, was expelled from the convention, this morning, and expelled from the organization until he makes public retraction.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The consideration of the statehood bill was continued in the Senate yesterday and Mr. Stone spoke for two hours in opposition to it. The bill for the remuneration of American fur sealers who suffered losses because of their suppression also was debated at some length, but no action was taken on it.

The House completed consideration of the army appropriation bill, and will vote on the measure to-day. During the debate Resident Commissioner Degetau, of Porto Rico, made his first speech in the House. He took occasion to praise the United States for its attitude toward his island home, and to declare its citizens to be citizens of the United States. Incidentally he saw no need for the maintenance of the provisional regiment of troops in the island. A vigorous attack was made, but no avail, on the army transport service by Mr. Humphrey, of Washington.

Seven Men Buried Alive.

A special from Antoine, Ark., says: Seven men were buried alive under a great mass of dirt and rock, as the result of a cave-in yesterday, in a deep cut five miles north of Antoine, on the Gurdon and Fort Smith Railroad. All were white men. It is not known where their homes are. All the dead men came to Little Rock with a large number of others from St. Louis, and nothing was known of them locally. The cut is about fifty feet deep at that point, and the seven men who were caught in the cave-in were buried under twenty feet of rock and dirt.

Today's Telegraphic News

Serious Conditions in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—All prospects of an immediate settlement of the great strike among the shipping workers and other operatives in St. Petersburg and surrounding districts, have practically vanished. It is learned that the Ministers of the Interior and Finance have finally declined to receive a deputation of the operatives to discuss the situation. As a result an enormous demonstration before the palace in which 400,000 workingmen intend to participate has been planned for today. At that time a petition will be handed to the Czar, asking for the carrying out of the strikers' demands, and concluding: "Be merciful to us and let us live." The Czar, realizing that the strike might readily become revolutionary in character, has ordered the commanding generals throughout Russia to institute inquiries as to the extent of revolutionism in the army. The same orders have also been sent to the naval stations. Strong measures will be taken to suppress all political agitation in both branches of the service. As the afternoon progressed, the strikers became more bold. They broke into several factories and the State printing works connected with the Academy of Science and forced the workers there to join them. A force of strikers also marched through the Vassiliostroff district, compelling all the owners of workshops and small storekeepers to close their establishments. The strike has spread to the spinning trade. The employees of the Sangalli and Kolinkin spinning mills this afternoon quit work. The striking workingmen, their ranks swelled by a great number of sympathizers, have begun marching. The masters again declared they would not concede the strikers' demands, and at once processions began to form. Similar demonstrations are reported from other cities. It is feared, should the parading continue, some of the firebrands among the strikers will precipitate trouble. Troops have been sent to the Hutiloff works to protect them.

St. Petersburg, January 20.—The strike among the workingmen of St. Petersburg and vicinity is assuming sinister proportions. In many quarters the fear is freely admitted that the political aspect of the trouble is far graver than the economic possibilities, and that unless a stop is put to the strike, and that quickly, the nation is in imminent danger of being caught in the throes of a widespread revolution.

The workers on the left side of the Neva are joining the strikers. It is reported the men are endeavoring to obtain the cooperation of the employes of the German war material factories, with the object of forcing the government to stop the far Eastern war. The ranks of the strikers was swelled by the addition of 20,000 additional workmen in Kharkoff and Kieff districts.

The Czar feels himself that the strike has already become revolutionary in character and he has commanded the generals commanding the army of posts and the officers of the navy to inquire and let him know to what extent revolutionism has spread among the soldiers and sailors, strong measures will be taken to suppress all political agitation in both branches of the service.

Riga, Russia, Jan. 20.—The socialists organized a demonstration here today. The crowd marched through the town distributing proclamations. The police were called out in force and stopped the procession, tore down the red flags, and dispersed the crowd. Several of the demonstrators fired revolvers, but no one was injured.

Berlin, Jan. 20.—The Tageblatt reports that a rebellion broke out at Petrocheonje in the province of Moscow, today. The rebels, according to the report, dynamited the government buildings containing the administrative, judicial, taxation, and police offices. Chief of Police Poti, it is reported, was shot, and Magistrate Peu was wounded.

Labor Conflicts in Germany.

Berlin, Jan. 20.—The coal strike, which had been growing througbout the mining districts of Germany, has resulted in further bloodshed. A clash has occurred between the police and black legs near Mont Cenis. The Rheinisch Westfaelische Zeitung reports that two persons have been killed and twenty injured at Borstfeld. The strikers threatened to cut off the ears of the strike breakers and brand them indelibly on their bodies as traitors to the cause of labor. There have been conflicts of a minor nature in many districts.

The Baltic Fleet.

St Petersburg, January 20.—The Novosti today prints an editorial approving the proposal to recall Admiral Rozjestvensky and the Russian Baltic fleet. The paper asks whether it is worth while to take such trouble and risks as are at present being taken, only to meet inevitable disaster. The Japanese, the paper adds, have enough ships to keep command of the sea, even taking into account the Russian third and fourth squadrons. "Meanwhile," the article concludes, "Russia halts between irreconcilable views and the squadron is waiting."

Wholesale Poisoner.

Taunton, Mass., Jan. 20.—Jane Toppan, who is confined in the State Insane Hospital here, is rapidly failing physically and mentally, and the doctors say she can live but a few months more. A month ago the confessed poisoner of thirty-one persons made a nearly successful attempt at suicide by knotting her bed clothing and fastening one end to the high head of her bedstand. She was discovered in time and since then has been under double guard. Four of the largest female nurses in the hospita have her under their especial charge.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Jan. 20.—Efforts to depress the stock market on disappointment regarding the dividends action by the Amalgamated Copper directors yesterday met with little success. By the end of the first hour the tone of speculation showed increasing firmness Comparatively little interest was shown in the industrial group outside of Amalgamated Copper. The second hour of business showed an increased tendency to improvement, also this met some resistance from the bear faction

Mysterious Death.

New York, Jan. 20.—A man who registered at the Imperial Hotel as Jacob Ridgeway Wright, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., said to be a prominent anthracite coal operator, attempted to take his life in his room this morning. He sent a bullet from a 32 calibre revolver into his breast. He was removed to the New York Hospital. When Mr. Wright shot himself he was in the company of Dr. Howard Hardee. Dr. Hardee is detained by the police until they have completed an investigation into the circumstances of the shooting. It was said at the New York Hospital that Mr. Wright's condition was not favorable to a recovery. The coroner says that the bullet entered Wright's left side about two inches above the hip bone and passed through the body and it can be felt under the skin on the right side. From the position of the wound Coroner Scholer says he does not see how it was possible for Wright to shoot himself. Wright died at 11 o'clock this morning. Coroner Scholer, who examined Wright in the New York Hospital, to which place he was removed, says that the wounded man refused to make any statement further than that the shooting was accidental. Dr. Hardee says his back was toward Wright when the latter shot himself, and when the doctor asked him what his action meant, he said "Its all right." Wright had been addicted to drugs.

No Election.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 20.—With but meagre possibility of breaking the dead lock, the House and Senate met at noon today, to cast the fourth joint ballot for a United States Senator to succeed Francis M. Cockrell. The disagreement between the Niedringhaus and Kerens forces is growing critical constantly, and considerable ill feeling is being developed.

The fourth joint ballot in the legislature today resulted: Niedringhaus, 80; Cockrell, 81; Kerens, 9; Pettijohn, 1. No election.

Frozen to Death.

Vienna, Jan. 20.—Intense cold prevails in Moravia. Snow has fallen to a depth of several feet, and a number of fatalities have been reported. Several children returning home from school at the village of Krasonic were overtaken by a heavy snow storm and lost their way. They were later found in a field, all frozen to death. At another point a wagoner with his team were caught in the storm and perished. Many factory hands have lost their lives or suffered serious injuries from the storm and cold.

Burned to Death.

New York, Jan. 20.—By the burning of a shack at the ash dump at 162nd street and Cromwell avenue, early this morning, three Italians, two men and a woman, lost their lives. Their bodies are so badly charred that as yet they have not been identified. The fire was caused, it is believed, by the overturning of a stove filled with live coals, and spread so rapidly that the inmates, who were asleep, had no chance to escape.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FINE OLD MISSOURI HAMS 15c pound
J. C. MILBURN'S.

Gen. Lee's Birthday.

The birthday of Gen Robert E. Lee was generally observed throughout the State yesterday. The President wrote to A. P. Hill Chapter of Confederates at Petersburg regretting that he could not attend their banquet. Governor Montague spoke at Lynchburg and prominent men spoke in many of the cities and towns of the State where banquets were held or the occasion otherwise observed.

The United Confederate Veterans Association and the United Daughters of the Confederacy of the District of Columbia held a joint meeting last night in the headquarters of the veterans in Washington in honor of the birthday of Robert E. Lee. Many of the heroes of the Southland were there, and a number of medals were distributed. The military genius of the South was lauded by Major Holmes Conrad and Gen. Fitzhugh Lee. Confederate crosses of honor were distributed and songs of the southland sung.

Eloquent speeches, eulogistic of the soldiers and sailors of the Confederacy, the attendance of a number of distinguished southern guests, the stirring strains of martial music, and the presence of many fair ladies combined to make the twenty-fifth annual banquet of the Society of the Army and Navy of the Confederate States of America in the State of Maryland, held last night at the Eutaw House, in Baltimore, one of the most successful in the history of the organization. An elaborate menu was served and the 200 or more members of the society were seated in the main dining room, which was decorated with flowers and potted plants. Capt. George W. Booth, president of the society, presided, and seated with him at the table of honor were United States Senator John W. Daniel, Congressman John Lamb and Congressman William H. Jones, of Virginia; Major Robert W. Hunter, of Virginia; Congressman John H. Bankhead, of Alabama; Major W. Stewart Symington, Congressman J. F. C. Talbott, Major James W. Denny, Rev. Dr. William M. Dame, Col. David G. McIntosh and Major Randolph Barton. Senator Daniel made the speech of the evening.

A Pleasant Reception.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Studds, of West End, was the scene of a gay assemblage on Monday evening last, January 16, the event being the celebration of the 25th anniversary of their marriage. Friends from Baltimore, Washington, Alexandria, and the surrounding vicinity gathered to offer their congratulations and help to make the occasion one long to be remembered by those present. The guests were received with the hospitality characteristic of the host and hostess, and ushered into the midst of flowers, and music, and with the congeniality of a concourse of friends, one could scarcely fail to be supremely happy. Refreshments were served in a dainty style that would suit the taste of the most fastidious. The arrangement of the table was exceedingly beautiful, the work being executed by Mrs. Gates, of Washington, for which she deserves especial mention. The presents were numerous and handsome. At a late hour the guests departed, wishing the happy couple a long and prosperous life. May they live to celebrate their 50th anniversary, may their bark with its precious freight of growing womanhood and manhood sail calmly on placid waters, unruffled and undisturbed by the fierce storms of life. A WELL WISHER.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

Annual Reunion and Banquet of R. E. Lee Camp—Happy Gathering—Thrilling Speeches and an Evening of Unalloyed Pleasure.

During the past fifteen or sixteen years R. E. Lee Camp has had many pleasant gatherings, and their reminiscences will remain green in the souls of each and every one who has participated in them; but that of last night, it is believed, will be justly regarded as among the most enjoyable of all, and the pleasant experiences at the reunion and banquet of 1905 will not be forgotten. The committee having the affair in charge left nothing undone that could in any way have added to the pleasures of the evening, and it was the unanimous verdict of all that they had reached their ne plus ultra.

The Ladies' Auxiliary had been as busy as bees for several days past in arranging Confederate Veterans' Hall for the occasion, and the fruits of their ingenuity and industry were apparent. The members of this organization were the caterers, and the tasteful manner in which the tables had been arranged, the unexcelled culinary skill displayed, and the close attention bestowed on each and every member of the camp and their guests were among the many pleasant features. They made all feel at home, and the inviting menu served, as it was by Alexandria's fair daughters, animated and cheered the old and young alike.

Th members and their guests began to assemble shortly before 8 o'clock, and about half an hour later repaired to the double dining rooms on the first floor where the tables had been spread in the most inviting manner.

Commander E. H. O'Brien rapped the company to order, and after a blessing had been invoked by Comrade K. Kemper, a discussion of the feast followed. The following was the menu.

Lynn Haven Bay oysters, fried do., celery, olives, mixed pickles, pickled beets, salted almonds, roast turkey, cranberry sauce, baked ham, smoked tongue, chicken and lobster salads, sliced tomatoes, crackers, cream cheese, ice cream in Confederate colors, assorted cakes, oranges, malaga grapes, cigars, coffee and punch.

About an hour was spent in the enjoyment of the collation, made more enjoyable by the addition of pleasant conversation, and later by vocal and instrumental music by the ladies.

Commander O'Brien finally rapped the company to order and announced that Adjutant R. M. Latham would read General Lee's Farewell Address. This immortal production was read in a clear, distinct and impressive manner.

Hon. Scott Field, of Texas, was then called on to respond to the sentiment, "Our Great Commander, Robert E. Lee. Mr. Field arose and in a brief speech painted a most vivid picture of the great Virginian, The speaker's references were apt, and his illustrations thrilling and at times pathetiic. It was, however, the old, old story of one of the greatest men ever born, but clothed in beautiful language and with tinges of originality. He was earnestly applauded.

"The Confederate Soldier" having been announced, Hon. John McPherson Pinckney, of Texas, arose. When the applause had ceased the speaker paid a just compliment to the Confederate soldier. There was, he said, no age limit for a wearer of the gray—the boy in his teens and the man in the last decade of the three score and ten wore the gray and followed Robert E. Lee. Mr. Pinckney said many thing which sent thrills through the souls of the company, especially those who had served in the Confederate army. "I'm proud I was there," was one of his exclamations in describing a scene through which he passed while a Confederate soldier, "nor would I have the recollections of my experience effaced for all the wealth of the world." This met a response in the hearts of all present who had been soldiers, as notwithstanding the dangers and privations, there is a solid satisfation in realizing "I was there." In closing Mr. Pinckney spoke of the sons of Confederates, the part they were playing in this day, their heroism in the Spanish war, as well as the services of Generals Fitzhugh Lee and Joseph Wheeler, and referred to the fact that the first blood shed in the conflict with Spain was that of Bagley, of North Carolina. The speaker said he loved old Virginia and her sons and daughters more than those of any other part of the country, and when the last trump shall have sounded he would look to see the happy band led by a gray-headed man, wearing a black slouch hat and attired in a Confederate gray uniform. He took his seat amid vociferous applause.

Hon. Maecenas E. Benton, of Missouri, was the next speaker. He attended the previous reunion and had made a number of friends and acquaintances on that occasion. He is an easy, entertaining and pathetic speaker, and last night was at his best. He was called upon to respond to "The Women of the South," and was perfectly at home with his subject. His speech abounded in humor, happy illustrations and at times a vein of pathos thrilled his hearers. Among other things he said he rejoiced in the New South, but entertained many tender recollections of the Old South. If the new generation would show forth the Spartan courage of the old, all would be well. He admonished the young ladies of the South to stand aloof from movements which brought females on the stump, or moved them to don man's apparel. While the speaker's theme was "The Women of the South," he branched off occasionally on the Confederate soldier and interlarded his speech with a number of entertaining reminiscences of a soldier's life. He closed by saying the future welfare of the southern country was in hands of the sons of the South, and he lived in the hope that one from this section would again occupy the White House. Mr. Benton's remarks brought forth much applause.

Hon. John F. Rixey was called on to speak on the "Sons of Confederate Veterans." It was generally conceded that Mr. Rixey made one of the most stirring, humorous and interesting impromptu speeches in his public career. He was perfectly "at home" and greatly pleased his hearers. His remarks were interspersed with references to matters concerning the district he so ably represents.

Mr. John M. Johnson followed in a short but earnest speech, in which he dwelt mostly on the Confederate soldier. Mr. Johnson spoke in his usual fervid manner, and his remarks were animating to all present.

Mr. W. P. Graves, one of the first to enlist when President Lincoln called for 75,000 men in 1861, was called upon for a speech. His remarks were in the main felicitious and enjoyable. He referred to the fact that he had lived in old Virginia over forty years, and purposed to end his days here, as he felt perfectly at home among "Johnny Rebs." He said his natural impulses would have brought him to the banquet, but apart from those the fact that his daughters entreated him to become one of the number would have been potential [Some one suggested that they are Virginia ladies, which observation caused hearty applause.]

Commander O'Brien subsequently thanked the speakers for their attendance and expressed his satisfaction at the happy conditions surrounding the reunion and banquet, after which the company adjourned.

Souvenirs in the shape of miniature silk Confederate flags were presented to each guest.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the rendering of "Virginia" by Mrs. McCann.

The committee of arrangements consisted of Messrs. Thomas Perry (chairman), G. W. Ramsay, R. M. Latham, F. J. Davidson, Edgar Warfield, E. C. Graham and P. F. Gorman.

Venerable Alexandria Mechanic

The Carriage Monthly, published in Philadelphia, has the following concerning a well-known Alexandrian:

NEARLY HALF A CENTURY IN THE HARNESS.

Louis Edelen, who was born May 22, 1837, in Washington, D. C., entered the employ of John Summers, the father of the present head of the firm. He came to work at the age of fourteen years and began as a helper at nineteen years of age; for a long time he worked fourteen hours a day, and often in his experience was obliged to get up at twelve or one o'clock in the night to repair mail stages that had to start out at 6 o'clock to make schedule time. In the early days he made axles out of tire iron, welding them together, and boxes were made out of boiler iron, with the comb the whole length of the box. All bolts and and clips were made by hand, in fact everything about the carriage. After working in a shop at night he had to split and prepare wood two or three hours. During his entire service of forty-nine years his lost time did not amount to more than five days per year, excepting two periods of sickness. He now works nine hours per day, and is an excellent workman. Mr. Edelen is full of early reminiscences of carriage and wagon making, and possesses a fund of information which makes him a desirable companion for the younger men concerning old-time methods of construction. He is the uncle of John R. Edelen, of the firm of John W. Summers & Co., Alexandria, Va.

The wedding has been fixed for the 15th of February and will be solemnized in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, of Norfolk. Lieut. Brown is from Rhode Island.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stearns and son, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Rixey at the New Hotel Rammel, have returned to their home in Richmond.

Mrs. P. M. Rixey, of Washington; Mrs. E. W. Stearns, sr., and Miss Williams, of Baltimore, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stearns, at the New Hotel Rammel.

Fires.

The alarm of fire shortly after 8 o'clock last night was caused by a fire in a house on the north side of King street, near the old fair grounds. The damage was slight. During the excitement attending the fire Mr. Henry Murray, pipeman of the Columbia company, had his head seriiously cut while engaged in connecting hose.

The alarm of fire about half-past 3 o'clock this afternoon was caused by the burning of a small frame house near the Old Dominion Glass Works.

Killed by a Train.

Yesterday evening John Matson, of Madison, N. J., was struck by a southbound Chesapeake and Ohio Railway passenger train at Bealeton station, and was so badly injured that he died soon after. He was engaged in putting in interlocking switches, and was working with his back to the fast approaching train when he was struck by the engine. His right leg was crushed, and he received internal injuries. His body was found 30 feet from the track. He is survived by a wife and five children.

A Testimonial to Mr. Mackey.

The residents of Jefferson district, Alexandria county, last night tendered Mr. Crandall Mackey, Commonwealth's Attorney, an ovation, at which a feast was spread and vocal and instrumental music was rendered. The entertainment was given in the school house in Jefferson district. During the evening speeches were made by Mr. Mackey, ex-Mayor Geo. L. Simpson, of this city, and Mr. Frank Lyon.

Shot Himself.

Lewis Carrington, colored, yesterday evening attempted to commit suicide and fired a ball from a pistol into his left arm. The shot was fired while he was on Columbus street, between Wilkes and Wolfe streets, and attracted a crowd Officer Smith removed Carrington to a house, where he received medical attention. Carrington is a well-known Alexandria darkey.

Do Not Suppress a Cough.

When you have a cough do not try to suppress it, but remove the cause. The cough is only a sympton of some disease, and the disease is what you should cure, then the cough will stop of itself. The most common cause of coughing is a cold. Anodynes will promptly suppress the cough, and preparations containing chloroform, opium, etc., are used for that purpose, but they do not cure the cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on the other hand does not suppress the cough, but relieves it by removing from the throat and lungs the mucus which obstructed the breathing and allaying the irritation and tickling in the throat. It also opens the secretions and effectually and permanently cures the cold as well as the cough. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 20, 1905.

Triple Tragedy.

News of a triple tragedy in the mountains of Franklin county Wednesday afternoon reached Roanoke yesterday. Of four men who engaged in a revolver and shotgun fight at Drury Hanes's home, two miles north of Calloway postoffice, on the Roanoke and Calloway turnpike, 20 miles southwest of Roanoke, three are dead and the fourth is in jail at Rocky Mount. The dead are James Abshire and his son and L. A. Pradd.

From the meager details received it appears that one of the four men had offered an alleged insult to the wife of one of the other three. Trouble had been brewing for sometime, and last evening the two Abshires met Pradd and his friend Holley at the home of Drury Hanes. All of the men were heavily armed, and with but little ceremony fire was opened on both sides.

After the first round had been exhausted and the smoke of battle had cleared away it was found that the two Abshires and Pradd were on the ground, all wounded. The elder Abshire managed to reload his shotgun, and, raising up on his elbows, he turned on Pradd, who lay nearby, and deliberately blew his head off. Both the Abshires died in a short while and Holley made his escape, but was yesterday captured by the sheriff and placed in the county jail.

It cannot be learned which one of the four men offered the alleged insult, or which side had resented it. The tragedy occurred not far from the spot where Henry Moore, a prominent young man of that section, was called from his house late last Sunday night and his body riddled with 19 bullets from Winchester rifles in the hands of unkown assassins, believed to be moonshiners.

Holley was the friend of Pradd and fought the Abshires, but it is not known what damage his shots did. Holley escaped injury.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but when all other medicines failed, three $1 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store.

Mr. Wm. S. Crane, of California, Md., suffered for years from rheumatism and lumbago. He was finally advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did and it effected a complete cure. This liniment is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Persons traveling find Little Early Risers the most reliable remedy to carry with them. Sold by all druggists.
